Prayer For Liberty. Roll on, thou joyful day, When Tyranny's proud sway, Stern as the grave, Shall to the ground be hurled, And Freedom's fing unfurled Shall wave, throughout the world, O'er every slave.

Trumpet of jubiles, Echo o'er land and sea, Freedom for all : Let the glad tidings fly, And every-tribe reply, Glory to God on high. At slavery's fall.

Free, too, the captive mind By tyrants long contined In slavery's night; The Savior's name extend, Virtue with freedom blend, And full salvation send With freedom's light.

A Reasoning Dog.

At one of the Newfoundland fisheries, a boat and crew, trying to enter a small harbor found themselves outside a long row of breakers, in great peril. The wind and weather had changed since the boat went out in the morning, and getting her safely back seemed pretty doubtful. The people on shore saw her danger, but could not help ber. Every moment increased the danger, and anxions friends ran to and fro Among the crowd was a large dog, which seemed fully alive to the peril of the boat, and the auxiety of those on shore. He watched the boat, surveyed the brenkers, and appeared to think as earnestly as anybody, What could be done?

At last he boldly plunged into the an gry waters, and swam to the boat. The crew thought be wanted to join them and tried to take him aboard. No, he would not go within their reach, but swam around, diving his head, and suiffing, as if in search of something.

What was le up to? What did the cr a ure me u? What did he want? 'Give him the end of the rope," cried one of the sailors, divining what was in the poor dog's brain; "that's what he want's." A rope was thrown out; the dog seized the end in an instant, turned around and swam straight for the shore, where, not long after-thanks to the intelligence and sagacity of Tiger-the boat and crew were landed safe and sound.

'Jis So .- The Charleston Conrier says "Commodore Tatnall has set the men of the South an example which they should seek to imitate," which is to meet the enemy at the very threshold and drive him back or perish in the very attempt. If Mr. Tatnall 'perished in the attempt' to drive back Dupont's expedition, the news has not yet reached the North. Our accounts state that as soon as he saw the Wabash in Port Royal harbor he ran up the creek with his fleet, and has not shown himself since.

As ambitious party of juvenile Philadel phians were recently serenading a pretty daughter offa wealthy Quaker. They bad sung the above popular sir, for about half an hoar, when a window was raised, and a night-cap, surrounding an elderly face up peared. Presently in a coursed phrases the old geutleman proceeded to say, my fiddling young friends this is not a fit hour to sing songs and play upon instruments to the disturbance of weary people. Ye express the wish that ye were in Dixie, and I must say that I and my daughter Esther earnestly wish the same. But if Dixie is a distant place, I would advise ye to move on, or you will not be in Dixie natil a late hour," and the aash went down with a bang.

Longfellow's "Art is Long."

The late Dr. Kitto was fond of peetry and occasionally wrote it himself. A fine conception or a glowing image afforded him intense pleasure. He had met with the following verse from Longfellow, as a motto in some book he had been reading :

"Art is long nod time is fleeting; And our hearts, though strong and brave, Still, like muffled drums, are besting Funeral marches to the grave."

He committed the lines at once to memory, and advised his eldest daughter to do the same. "I would," said he, "give fifty pounds to the nuther of that verse. He has done something for the world-he has given it a fine and beautiful idea." Without denying the originality of Longfellow's ides, he was not the first who embodied it in poetry. Dr. King, Bishop of Chichester, in a volume of poems published in 1657, has:

"But hark! my pulse, like a soft drum, Beats my approach, tells thee I come; But slow howe'er my marches be, I shall at last sit down by thee."

FEEDING THE ARMY. - The following figures show the amount of commissary stores which will be consumed in one month by the United States army when brought up to the standard authorized by Congress, viz: 500,000 men. It will be seen that the labors of the commissary department are anything but trivial, and that the cost of feeding an army is a somewhat serious item: 11,250,000 pounds of pork, or 18,750,000 pounds of fresh beef; 105,380 barrels of flour; 37,500 bushels of beans, or 1,500,-000, pounds of rice; 1,500,000 pounds of coffee; 2,250,000 pounds of sugar; 150, 000 gallons of vn gar; 225,000 poundof candies; 600,000 ponuds of soap; 9,384 bushels of salt, and 6,600,000 pounds of poratoes.

GRETILENST: Year note of the lath inst, has been received, asying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Word's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you canserfully, because I think it due. Mwage is about 50 years; the color of my hair anborn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years ain wit is began to turn gray, and the scalp on the arewn of my head to less its a notifility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about a nonths since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me half.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could over be restored to its original color, except from dres. I was, however, greatly surpresed to Bud after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and chandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the graiffication of my wife, at whose sullintains I was induced by it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, atrongly recommend all husbands who value the admiratio of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growin gray or getting laid.

Very respectfully,

HOSTETTER S

STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS TETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BIT TERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physiciaus and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach listers for the last year amounted to over a halfmillion bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sauction of the most prophysicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trum-peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be no enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bisters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of un-alloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stometh, parifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitably to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find n it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, sol rejuvenating generally. We have the eviwho have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach de-rangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoucd all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorafors that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the laste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of hodily strength. All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit; sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhees. dysentery, indigestion, loss of appeale, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and anysing mothers, will consultheir own physical welfare by giving to Hos-teiter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial. CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetten's Celebrated S. OMACH BITTERS, and see that each buttle has the words "Dr. J.
